

Andrea Koerner

Associate

Key Experience

Bio

Andrea was born and raised in the United States, completing a Bachelor's and Master's Degree in Architecture as well as a Master's Degree in Planning at the University of Nebraska. Having spent a semester at the Dublin Institute of Technology in 2007, Andrea returned to settle in London, joining InsideOut in 2013.

Since this time Andrea has overseen the completion of many residential projects in London, working closely with both domestic and developer clients.

More recently, Andrea has designed and managed a series of commercial refurbishment projects, working with growing brands to create a clear identity and ensure a smooth rollout.

Andrea has also worked at BVH and HDR architects in the US.
